Decorations, Barbecue

'61 Interscholastic Preparations Outlined for New Central Board

By OWEN DITCHFIELD

In the first official meeting of the new administration, Central Board approved Dick Austin as next year's cheer king, Donna Snyder as cheer queen and Cathy Spittler as head pom pon girl.

In other business, Central Board heard Jack Griffith tell of Traditions Board plans for Interscholastic. He said house decorations must be up by 4:30 p.m. May 19. He also said the May 20 barbecue will be on the oval in front of Main Hall this year. Ten food lines will provide fast service.

Denis Adams, new president of ASMSU, reported on a recent trip to San Francisco for a meeting of the Pacific Students' Presidents Association. Others attending the meeting were Dale Haarr, senior delegate; Ray Young, business manager and Paul Ulrich, ex-president of ASMSU.

In addition to Adams' report, Haarr said he found that one of the problems many of the school representatives discussed at the meeting was the problem that might arise next year when several African students start attending United States colleges.

Haarr also said that after attending several sessions on orientation weeks at the San Francisco meet, he concluded that orientation week at MSU was similar to a Boy Scout operation.

Harold Gilkey reported that the total cost of Leadership Camp was $1,432 and that there was about $50 left over. He said he thought the camp completely fulfilled its purpose.

Central Board also passed two minor by-law changes regarding appointment of committee chairmen and members and voting on Judicial Council.

Plans Completed For Stone Dinner

Final plans are being completed for the fifth annual Dean Stone night.

Douglas Cater, Washington editor of Reporter magazine, will be guest speaker at the Sunday evening banquet.

Dean Stone Night honors the memory of A. L. Stone, founder and first dean of the School of Journalism. It is attended by alumni, students and friends of the school.

Capt. James Mills, pioneer Montana journalist, will be installed in the Montana Newspaper Hall of Fame during ceremonies that night.

Also, preceding the banquet, Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism society, will initiate new members.

MSU Team Will Compete In TV's GE College Bowl

Four seniors flew to New York to represent MSU and compete against Johns Hopkins University in the General Electric College Bowl Sunday, according to Melvin C. Wren, chairman of the history department and team coach.

The CBS television program will be telecast over KXLY-TV, Channel 4, Spokane, and will be seen in Missoula on Sunday at 5:30 p.m.

The students will compete for grants for the University and for individual awards. General Electric presents $1,500 to the winning school and $500 to the runner-up school each week.

Members of the MSU team are Donald Hubbard, zoology, Missoula; Zena Beth McGlashan, journalism, Butte; James Polk, English, Miles City; and Terry Stephenson, liberal arts, Butte.

The G.E. College Bowl was honored last April with a Peabody Award as 'the outstanding television program for youth in the nation,' Wren said. The program pits two teams of four members each in a rapid-fire test of knowledge and recall of facts. The show is moderated by Allen Ludden.

BALLET THEATER—"Night of Ballet" opens tonight in the University Theater at 8:15 for the final presentation of the ballet troupe at MSU. The featured performances include "Cendrillon," "Streetcar Named Desire," and "Au Revoir." Marnie Cooper, instructor of ballet, will direct the ballet troupe.

MSU Troupe to Present Ballets Featuring Children, U Students

"Evening of Ballet" opens this evening in the University Theater at 8:15.

Marnie Cooper, instructor of ballet, will direct the Ballet Theater troupe of MSU students and a group of children dancers in three complete and original ballets.

"Cendrillon," the first ballet on the program, is in classical form and features the technical artistry of the Ballet Theater group.

Although it is the first ballet Mrs. Cooper has created, the choreography has been rewritten as she strives to create it to the individual personalities of the present cast.

Kathy Joseph displays her versatility by her portrayal of a dual character. She is a dramatic and fiery ballerina in the first two scenes, and changes to that of a classical ballet principal in the final scene.

In deep contrast, the second ballet, "Streetcar Named Desire," is written in a dramatic dance style. This ballet requires not only dance, but also drama technique.

"Streetcar Named Desire" is taken from the play by Tennessee Williams set in a dirty apartment in New Orleans. The story centers around Stan, Blanche and Stella who are all living in this apartment during the setting of the story. Mrs. Cooper has selected music appropriate to each phase of the story and the dancers have studied not only the choreography, but also the original play for the dramatic emphasis Mrs. Cooper has given this play.

Dancing in major roles will be

Bill Gehler, Stan; Sandy Swank, Blanche; Nancy Senechal, Stella and George Klein, Mitch.

"Au Revoir" the final number, is a lyrical fantasy and is set in a magic fairyland. Of course, there is the traditional queen, and both the good and evil princes. The good prince, Roland, decides to leave the kingdom and the evil prince, John, remains at home. The ballet has elaborate costumes that portray the many countries to which Roland travels.

A group of children dancers add to the cast of this final spectacular number.

Tonight and tomorrow night will be the final performances of ballet at MSU. Reserved seats may be obtained by calling the University Theater ticket office.

Rusk Demands Cease-Fire

GENEVA (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk stood firmly today on demands for proof of a solid cease-fire before he sits down to the 14-nation conference on Laos.

The American delegation believed it might be waiting in Geneva well into next week before the delegates sit down around the conference table.

In the 1954 Geneva conference on Indochina, the Western powers found themselves committed to negotiate while Communist-led troops won a resounding victory over the French at Dien Bien Phu.

American sources said they were convinced they had the backing of the British and French to avoid a similar mistake this time.

Cuban Invasion Survivor Tells of CIA Captivity

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first rumor about the U. S.-held survivors of the Cuban invasion, some of whom reportedly are wounded, reached the U. S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay soon after the military effort collapsed.

Within hours, the Castro captives from the abortive invasion—who were being interrogated in Havana on television—talked of having been trained for the invasion at the U.S. Marine base at Vieques, which is just a 30-minute helicopter ride from San Juan, Puerto Rico.

A member of the anti-Castro invasion forces said he and 16 other volunteers had been held captive at gunpoint in Guatemala by CIA agents because they refused to serve in the invasion forces under a man they described as a murderer in the regime of dictator Fulgencio Batista.

Johnson in Viet Nam; Will Offer U.S. Arms Aid

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson flew here yesterday for a close-hand look at Communist aggression in a guerrilla war where an estimated 400 to 500 Vietnamese are being killed every month.

The pro-Western government of President Ngo Dinh Diem prepared a friendly reception with heavy security precautions for the No. 2 man of the Kennedy administration.

Johnson reportedly will offer $40 million more in arms aid to enable Diem to boost his 150,000 man army by another 20,000.

Rescue Teams Approach African Air Crash Site

ALGIERS (AP) — Rescue and investigation teams pushed over the Sahara yesterday to recover bodies and seek the cause of the African continent's worst air disaster—the crash of a French airliner that carried 78 persons to their death.

Five Americans were among the dead.

It is hoped that desert specialists could locate nomads who witnessed the end of the Air

France super-constellation early Wednesday.

The plane was en route from Brazzaville.

Former ASNE President Protests Smear Attempt

WASHINGTON (AP)—James S. Pope, a former president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, has accused Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., "of attempting to smear newspapers simply because military men have been careless with defense data."

Pope wired Russell objecting to views expressed by the senator in testimony released Wednesday by the Senate Armed Services Committee.

JFK Asks for Program To Curb Juvenile Crime

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy yesterday asked Congress to authorize a five-year program of federal action to combat juvenile delinquency.

Kennedy issued an executive order establishing a special committee on "juvenile delinquency and youth crime," to coordinate federal activities and to seek new ways of fighting juvenile delinquency.

The legislation he proposed would provide federal grants to any state, local or any other public or nonprofit agency for the evaluation and demonstration of techniques in fighting juvenile delinquency.

In Winning, They Lost

As always there is the question of where to get the money to finance education. Few doubt the value of education or that education should be available for those willing to take advantage of the opportunity. Because most persons recognize the value of higher education they are interested in getting and keeping students and faculty of the best quality.

There are two schools of thought about financing higher education: 1. Federal aid to education. 2. Leaving the responsibility of financing education to each state.

A great number of persons fear federal aid because it tends to follow the trend of the last decade toward a more centralized government. These same persons also fear federal restrictions will follow federal aid.

The number of persons that are against federal aid to education are sufficient so that, to date, effective legislation for federal aid, now face the problem and responsibility of financing higher education. Whatever pretense these persons give they have not solved the problem but rather turned to the most unsatisfactory source to provide the money. Thus they thought the solution to their problem.

This solution, which the last legislature resorted to, is in effect the taxation of students and the freezing and reducing of the faculty; the only real two parts of the University.

This is asking the students, whose main objective is to be a student and when their earning power is at its lowest to sacrifice more of the little they have. For those, whose earning power is at its highest and whose responsibility it is to support education, to sacrifice less. Those who oppose federal aid won a victory in stopping federal aid but defeated their purpose in so distributing the tax load, thus in the end defeating themselves.

Why Classify Persons

Daily Bruin

Ever since time immemorial people have spoken of "types" with as little effort as it takes to flick the ashes from their cigarettes. These "types" range from one end of the spectrum to the other. There's the scatterbrain, intellect, athletic, sophisticated, suave, girl-next-door and beat type, to mention a few. Alas, typology seems to be on the rise.

Exactly what constitutes one particular type? Obviously, the more orientated a person is to one particular aspect of his environment, the more a person will overtly demonstrate his interest in this area. To classify a natural interest is one thing; to categorize a personality is another.

Why should people with intricate, infathomable personalities be categorized by a word or two? People are composites of various traits, just as they are amalgamations of vice and virtue. There are elements of the girl-next-door, femme fatale, actress, sophisticated lady, tomboy and pixie in every female.

Every male demonstrates the elements of debonair playboy, sportsman, Hercules, mama's boy and the boy-next-door in his personality. It is easy to take one trait that is more obvious because the situation is conducive to this behavior and say, "He is the . . . type." Easy? Yes. Honest? No.

People can not be classified into arbitrary categories because each is an individual, an entity different from the next by virtue of being a different person and having had different experiences. Everyone's personality has been shaped by unique experiences. Dissimilar attributes should not and can not be placed under a common heading.

Leadership Camp Gives Atmosphere

To the Kaimin:

Leadership Camp is not and never has been a policy-making group as the Kaimin thinks it should be. Its purpose is to provide an atmosphere where students and faculty can honestly discuss ideas for improving the university. The Kaimin apparently feels that such improvements must be a compiling of resolutions on dead issues or issues that cannot be decided by a group of students.

The usefulness of Leadership Camp is not to be measured by the formal resolutions passed. There seems to be a basic difference in philosophy as to the real purpose of such a camp. The Kaimin wishes Leadership Camp to operate within the present system in bickering about surface problems, while those students at the camp examined at a deeper level the system itself and questioned the real purpose of a university.

If the Kaimin staff had been present at all of the meetings and had given an accurate report of the proceedings, it would have discovered that the camp was successful in its intention.

Like Silent Movie . . .

Film Shows Shepard's Reaction To Weightlessness and Gravity

WASHINGTON (AP) — The man's eyes darted from side to side. His chest heaved. His helmeted head bent forward to look through a porthole. A strap of his spacesuit waved in the air like a piece of seaweed.

This was Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr., America's first astronaut, viewed by a movie camera inside his capsule as he rode 115 miles into space last Friday from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The dramatic film was shown for the first time Wednesday before an audience of congressmen and many of their office workers who crowded into the House caucus room.

The first and last parts of the film, showing the Redstone rocket's liftoff and the landing at sea of the capsule, almost duplicated television coverage on the spot last Friday.

But the footage taken from inside during the flight gave the viewer some sense of what it is like to lie strapped in a tiny cabin fastened to the tip of a roaring, flame-spouting 83-foot missile.

Shepard's face sagged a bit under the force of up to 10 times normal gravity at liftoff and re-entry. Vertical lines of concentration appeared between his brows.

His eyes flicked back and forth like those of a man trapped—but this was a deceptive impression because the film showed his movements four times faster than they actually occurred.

This gave it the appearance of old-time silent movies in which Shepard was shown moving jerkily and much too fast. His arms reached out to touch switches and guidance controls. He bent forward abruptly to peer out of his porthole.

That was when he exclaimed "What a beautiful view," the narrator said.

The strap waving in the air showed the period of weightlessness Shepard experienced for several minutes at the top of his ride.

As the capsule spiraled down to the sea at the end, sunlight repeatedly lit up the interior as the porthole rotated. This was according to plan.

Locker Room Chatter

By TOM FLAHERTY

Harry Adams, Montana State University track and field coach, was recently named with five other coaches and seven athletes to the Helms Athletic Foundation Track and Field Hall of Fame.

Adams' and the names of the five other coaches and seven athletes will be added to the Track and Field Hall of Fame trophy which is lodged in Helms Hall in the International Sports Shrine.

As head track and field coach since 1933, Adams is ranked as one of the most successful head coaches in the history of Montana State University. His track teams have won 60 per cent of their dual meets and have been consistent point winners in Skyline competition.

Adams was graduated from MSU in 1921 after a spectacular college career in track, football and basketball. He still ranks as one of the finest all-around athletic performers in the history of the school.

In 1920, he almost singlehandedly beat the University of Washington in football when he scored two of Montana's three touchdowns, and he was also a member of the Montana spring relay team that at one time held the world's record.

Parmelee to Leave Successful Record

Theron Parmelee, tennis coach of the Utah Redskins, will leave behind him one of the most successful coaching records in Skyline history when he retires this spring.

With the exception of stints in the two World Wars, Parmelee has been associated with the University of Utah for almost half a century as an athlete, secretary to the president, graduate manager of athletics and tennis coach and manager of student activities.

He began his coaching duties in 1921 and, with the exception of the four years he served in World War II, has been tennis coach of the Utes ever since.

In his 36 years as net coach, Parmelee's tennis squads have taken 28 Western Division or state championships. Although there was a span of 20 years in which the conference did not hold tennis championships, his teams have won 10 of the 21 championships played.

A record that no coach should be able to touch is Parmelee's record of seven straight Western Division and five straight Skyline championships.

Commands National Respect

"Parm" is not only respected in the Skyline, but also commands the same respect on the national level. The fact that the National Collegiate Tennis meet was held in Salt Lake City in 1957, sponsored by the University of Utah under the direction of Parmelee, points this out.

This meet is awarded to only the capable of the tennis regime and it was a real honor to the Ute coach to be host to this affair.

Parmelee refuses to take much credit for Utah's success on the tennis courts. He admits that he has had better material and gives much of the credit to the tremendous youth tennis program in Salt Lake Valley.

In turning in his successful record, Parmelee has used mostly local players on his teams. John Mooney of the Salt Lake Tribune writes that it would be difficult right off to recall an out-of-state player to represent the Utes in tennis.

Strange as it may seem, Parmelee did not represent the University of Utah on the tennis courts as a student.

"They had three-man tennis squads in those days," he said, "And I wasn't good enough to make the tennis team. I was a track man, specializing in the 440 and half-mile."

In regard to his approaching retirement, Parmelee added, "I guess you'd say the University of Utah has been my hobby all those years. I could have stayed on until I was 68, but I have been planning some things in anticipation of this day, and now I'll begin to develop some hobbies."

Intramural Athletes to Meet In Golf, Tennis Tournaments

Intramural athletes will spend the weekend participating in the intramural golf and tennis tournaments.

The golf tournament will begin tomorrow at 9 a.m. at the MSU golf course, and the tennis tournament will begin Sunday at 10 a.m., according to Ed Chinske, intramural director.

The golf tournament will be limited to five men from each organization, and the tennis tournament will be five men in the singles competition and three teams in the doubles. The top three scores from each team will be used for the final results in the golf tournament.

In the tennis tourney, the singles will be played this weekend, and the doubles will be played this weekend if possible and next weekend if not, Chinske added.

The softball tournament will begin next Tuesday at 4 p.m., and RX and Forestry will have a play-off game tomorrow at 10 a.m. to decide which team will be in the tournament, Chinske said.

MSU, U of Utah Featured In Final Dual Cinder Meet

By G. T. GUENIN

Montana's track team meets the University of Utah tomorrow in Salt Lake City, and the final Skyline dual meet of the season for the two schools may also prove to be the closest.

Both MSU and Utah have 0 and 2 records in the Western Division, and both suffered the losses against Brigham Young University and Utah State University. Montana has a slightly better season record than Utah with two wins and two losses. Utah is 1 and 4 for the season.

This will be the first time this season that Coach Harry Adams' Grizzlies will be facing an opponent who has had problems similar to those which have plagued MSU during the year.

Montana and Utah will both field teams that are weak in the weight events. The Utes have had trouble securing points in the discus, javelin and shot put in almost all of their 1961 meets.

The Grizzlies may show improvement in the javelin event against Utah. Adams had added two new but inexperienced men to the event, but Montana's only real threat in the weight events will remain with Harley Lewis in the shot put.

Lewis May Place in Shot

Lewis has been averaging about 50 feet per toss this season, and that should be good enough for points against the Utes.

Lewis and sprinter Pat Dodson will lend the added strength to Montana's participation in the javelin competition. Both handled the javelin Saturday in a meet with Montana State College. Dodson failed to pick up points in the meet, but Lewis took a second-place with a throw of 180 feet.

Utah depends on Craig Christensen in this event. Christensen recorded a 203-foot throw during the Colorado University Relays April 30, but he has not been able to repeat at that distance since April.

The Grizzlies may also attempt to put power in what has been another of Montana's weak points, the pole vault. Bill Beaulieu, MSU broad jumper and high jumper may enter the pole vault event at Salt Lake City.

Utah's Neil Schmidt has the best vault of the season for the Redskins at 13 feet 6 inches. The Grizzlies have yet to send a vaulter over the 10-foot mark.

As with Adams, Coach Marv Hess will probably look to his runners for most of Utah's points. The Utes have shown themselves strong in the hurdles, dashes and middle distance events, and the Utah distance runners could also give the Grizzlies trouble Saturday.

Hess can almost be sure of first-place ribbons in the low and high hurdle events. Utah's hurdler Blain Lindgren has been setting one record after another during the past two weeks, and Lindgren is currently tied for the seventh-best mark in the nation in the high hurdles and fifth in the nation in the lows.

Lindgren set a Colorado Relay record in the high hurdles at 14.1 seconds and a Utah State stadium mark with the same time. He also broke the Utah State record in the lows with a 22.8 time.

Grizzlies Look to Sprinters

Montana's Dodson, Dick Ford and Steve Anderson will carry the weight for the Grizzlies in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, and the Utes are certain to push Montana for points in both events.

Dodson ran the 100 in 9.7 against MSC Saturday, but he had a favorable wind pushing him along. Dodson had been nursing a bad knee this season which could cause him trouble in Utah.

The Grizzlies may also have to improve on past times in the 440 if they plan on a victory in this event. Jim Grasky leads Montana in the 440 but his best time this season, 48.5, does not stand up against the Utah mark. Mike Soulier of Utah traveled the 440 in 47.5 seconds during the Utah-Utah State meet Saturday.

In the mile event Gary Wojtowick will challenge Utah's best runners for the first-place finish and he should be the one to break the tape. Wojtowick has a 4:16.9 mark in the mile this season.

The Grizzlies may set the pace in the mile, but Utah will probably prove to be a bit rougher in the mile relay. The Ute relay team ran a 3:16 last weekend the fastest time in Redskin history. The Grizzlies best time this season is 3:18.

Following the Utah meet the MSU track squad will take part in the Skyline's Western Division finals at Brigham Young University, May 20. The Skyline Conference Championship will also be staged at BYU, May 26-27.

Grizzlies to Meet MSC 'Cats In Diamond Tilt at Bozeman

The Grizzly baseball team will meet the Montana State College Bobcats tomorrow in Bozeman for a pair of non-conference games.

The Grizzlies and Bobcats split a doubleheader earlier this season in Missoula. Montana swamped MSC 17 to 4 in the first game, but the Bobcats were quick to gain revenge, coming back with a 9 to 2 victory in the second contest.

Last year MSC won three of the four games played with MSU for the mythical Montana College crown.

Hal Sherbeck, MSU coach, spent most of the week working on the Grizzlies' hitting. MSU was scheduled to meet the University of Utah in a doubleheader last Friday, but Montana's weather interfered and the games were cancelled.

The Bobcats warmed up for the MSU series with a pair of victories over Carroll College Thursday. Montana State dropped the Saints 13 to 8 in the opener and 13 to 2 in the nightcap.

Montana State lost a pair of games to Carroll College earlier this month. During the first meeting, the Saints won 9 to 7 and 6 to 3.

Bob O'Billovich will lead MSU's batters into tomorrow's games with MSC with a .286 average. O'Billovich has eight hits in 28 trips to the plate.

In Skyline Conference play the Grizzlies have a team batting average of .196.

The Montana State club has not been doing much better in the hitting department. MSC has only one player hitting over the .300 mark. Clyde Cleveland, catcher, leads the Bobcats with a .308 mark. The MSC shortstop, Bob Allen, is second on the list with a .273 average.

Ed Komac will probably pitch one of the games for MSU tomorrow with Mike Dishman or Butch Hendricks seeing action in the other contest. Komac had the mound duties during MSU's earlier win over MSC.

Other probable starters for the Grizzlies are O'Billovich, Hendricks and Glenn Sorenson in the outfield, Rex Robey at third, Hal Westberg or Dan Sullivan at short, Paul Miller at second, Bunky Held at first and Chuck Miltenberger behind the plate.

Bill Phillips and Craig Bryant will likely share the pitching responsibilities for the Bobcats with Cleveland doing the catching.

The other Bobcat players who will probably see action are Bernie Harvey at first, Pete Carson at second, Gordon Lacey at third and Bill Mulcahy at short. Merle Young, Jack McLeod and Jim Strouse will fill the outfield position.

Montana will finish the 1961 season May 18 in Missoula against Utah State University unless a tie between BYU and Utah should occur in the Western Division. In the case of a tie MSU will play two make-up games with Utah.

Full House Finishes First With 8-0 A League Record

Full House continued its winning ways yesterday by dumping Mafia 12 to 1 and finished the season in first place in the A League with an 8-0 record.

Second place was also decided during yesterday's action, but third place is still undecided.

Scourge topped Whitefish to finish in second place, and RX and Forestry finished the season with victories to tie for third place. Since only three teams from each league will play in the all-intramural softball tournament, a play-off game will determine whether RX or Forestry will play in the tournament.

Full House 12, Mafia 1

A last inning error cost Jim Basolo a shut out as the undefeated Full House team toppled Mafia 12 to 1 in three innings.

Ray Lucien, Mafia second baseman, became the third Mafia base-runner of the game by drawing a walk in the last half of the third inning. Lucien stole second base and scored on an overthrow to second base.

Even with Lucien's run, Basolo had little trouble controlling the Mafia nine. Basolo allowed only one runner to reach base in each inning and gave only one hit, a first inning single by Dave McCleerey.

Full House batters had little trouble with the opposition as they scored three runs in the first inning, five in the second and three in the third.

Dick West, Full House shortstop, opened the scorebook with a two-run double in the first inning, the only extra-base hit of the ballgame. West scored the third Full House run on a single by Bob Sherve.

Although the Full House team was unable to hit for extra bases after the first inning, it had little trouble keeping the bases well stocked with runners. Full House collected nine hits during the game.

RX 14, Doncelles 13

RX found its way back onto the winning trail yesterday as it won a 14 to 13 battle from the Doncelles in the last half of the fifth inning.

The Doncelles held a 13 to 12 edge going into the last half of the final inning, but Ramon Havens and Bob Campbell, the first two RX hitters in the fifth inning, reached first base on singles. Havens scored the tying run, and Campbell scored the winning run two batters later on a single by John Ambrose.

RX also overcame a 10 to 5 Doncelle lead in the bottom of the fourth inning with a seven-run outburst, but the Doncelles scored three more runs in the fifth to give them their 13 to 12 lead. RX refused to stay in the back seat, however, and gathered the two needed runs in the last half of the fifth.

RX collected twelve hits in the contest, all of them singles, and the Doncelles sent six runners to first via the hit route.

The loss dropped the Doncelles from a third-place tie into fifth place in the final standings and removed their hopes of reaching the post-season tourney. RX finished the season tied for third with Forestry.

Scourge 11, Whitefish 2

Scourge finished the season with a 6-2 record and a second-place finish by thumping Whitefish 11 to 2 yesterday.

A seven-run blast in the first inning opened things up for Scourge, and it picked up two additional runs in the third inning and two in the fourth.

Whitefish scored its two runs in the second inning.

Scourge collected ten hits in the game including a three-run home run by Dick Cox in the first inning. Scourge pitcher Bob Skates retired the first six men to face him in the game and scattered three hits during the remainder of the game.

Skates was the winning pitcher, and Skip Meyer suffered the loss.

Forestry 12, Elrod 5

Forestry assured itself a tie for third place by stomping Elrod 12 to 5.

A two-run home run by Jim

Goetz opened the game for the Foresters, and Jim Schaefer followed Goetz with another four bagger giving the Foresters three first-inning runs.

Elrod scored two runs in the first inning on a home run by Larry Corcoran and added another run in the second inning but failed to get a man past first base for the remainder of the game.

Schaefer added another home run to the Forestry statistics in the fourth inning, and Gary Beulieu hit one in the third-inning.

Forestry collected 14 hits during the game, seven of them for extra bases, and Elrod gathered only three hits.

Bob Jensen was the winning pitcher, and Bill Davis was the loser.

Forestry finished the season with a 5-3 record, and Elrod had a 2-6 record.

Senior Convocation to Signal Start of Pregraduation Activities

Any questions seniors have regarding commencement will be answered in a special senior convocation Friday, May 26, according to Homer Anderson, director of the commencement committee.

The convocation will begin at 10 a.m. in the Music Hall Auditorium, and Mr. Anderson said all candidates for a degree must attend.

The traditional Senior Swing-Out Day is June 2. All seniors will meet at the north end of Main Hall, in caps and gowns, and will then march in a body to the Prizes and Awards Convocation at the University Theater.

Scheduled for the next day, Saturday, are the Military Awards and Decorations Ceremony; a reception for the graduating class and their relatives, alumni and friends; the Commencement Dinner; a band concert; Singing-on-the-Steps; a carillon concert and the AWS Lantern Parade, followed by a coffee hour.

The main event that Sunday is the Baccalureate Service. The commencement ceremonies Monday afternoon will finish the weekend of graduation ceremonies.

McNamara Said Confusing Security With Propaganda

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara seems to be getting his concern for security confused with propaganda.

McNamara, as civilian head of the armed forces, is wrestling with the same dual responsibility which beset his predecessors in the Eisenhower administration:

How to keep the country as fully informed as possible without revealing vital military secrets to the Russians.

But a defense secretary also has a third responsibility: Not to kid the public.

Last April McNamara, behind closed doors, testified before the Senate Armed Services Committee. He spoke in great detail on defense problems from a prepared statement.

Then when he appeared before the committee he made additional statements under questioning. Wednesday the committee released some of those statements.

They showed: McNamara expressed shock that his security experts had released so much of his original testimony.

"It seems to me," he said, "that we were releasing far more information than would have been appropriate, considering the damaging effect on our security from the release of the information that was proposed."

But, in tracking down his security experts' reasons for releasing parts of his testimony which he thought should be kept secret, McNamara said he found that many of the items previously had been discussed in public.

"Why," McNamara asked the committee, "should we tell Russia that the Zeus anti-missile missile system development may not be satisfactory?"

Then the defense secretary added: "What we ought to be saying is that we have the most perfect anti-ICBM system that the human mind will ever devise."

If McNamara did put out such word—a complete exaggeration if only because McNamara can't tell what the human mind will devise—the Russians might be misled but so would the American public.

If McNamara feels its all right to feed such propaganda to the public on Zeus, then it seems fair to ask: Does he feel the same about other parts of American defenses which he may actually and privately consider inadequate?

There's no doubt he has an intense problem in trying to inform the public without revealing priceless information to the Russians, but other secretaries of defense before him contended with the same dilemma.

Professor Given Grant Renewal

Meyer Chessin, associate professor of botany, has received a renewal of a U. S. Public Health Service grant to continue research on the physiology of plant diseases.

Mr. Chessin's $16,000 grant is for three years, according to R. A. Diettert, chairman of the botany department. He will study the effect of light and certain kinds of enzymes on the infection process in plants. He is also working on a survey of plant viruses that occur in Montana.

Gym Club Elects Officers; Plans Hot Springs Picnic

New officers of the MSU Gymnastics Club elected Wednesday, are Pamela Lowe, president; Dan McWhorter, vice president; Sonja Harris, secretary; and Joseph K. Dietrich, publicity chairman.

The club is sponsoring a picnic at Sleeping Child Hot Springs May 27. Members and students interested in attending are asked to sign up at the Lodge desk or in the Men's Gym, Dietrich said.

Labor Commences For MSU Addition

Preliminary work for a new physical plant compound has started behind the University stables, according to Fred Kreiger, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

The steel Butler building presently used as part of the stables will be moved to the site, and another building will be added in the future, Mr. Kreiger said. The buildings will be used as storage facilities for custodial supplies which are presently stored in Simpkins Theater and Jumbo Hall.

Jumbo Hall will be torn down this summer and Simpkins Theater will be torn down next winter, Mr. Kreiger said.

Race Drivers See Laugh's on Them

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP) — Never joke with a gas station attendant.

G. C. McKinney and H. R. Bru of Los Altos, Calif., will testify to this. They were riding through Edmonton in one of the 93 cars in the 4,100-mile Trans-Canada Auto Rally when they needed gas.

"Fill'er up," said McKinney.

The station attendant said: "How, diesel?"

McKinney thought it was a gag and replied, "Sure."

A mile later the car came to a shuddering stop. The attendant really had filled the tank of the gas-burning MG Magnette with diesel fuel.

Happily for the Californians, the engine was cleaned out in short order and they sped on toward Vancouver.

Craig Hall Men Defeat Proposed New Constitution

Craig Hall residents defeated a proposed revision of the constitution by a vote of 142 to 100 Wednesday.

The constitution would have established an executive council, with a subordinate president's council, an athletic board and a social board.

At a meeting in Craig lounge last night, men residents further discussed the defeated constitution.

Craig residents will vote on an Administration-sponsored proposal to separate the present Craig-Duniway system and to unite Duniway with Elrod Hall on Thursday.
